FIGHTING NEAR FREDERICK.

The reports from the "Rebet raid," as some of the vankee journals still insist upon calling it, continues very conflicting. We give a few extracts, from the Washington Chronicle of BALTIMORE, July 7 .- There has been come fighting or Frederick during the afternoon. The rebels threw hells into the city. One fell near the residence of bls into the city.

and another near the Court Honse. Ason, FREDERICK, July 7.—About 10 o'clock to. morning Col. Clendenin of the 8th Illinois cavalry, with three hundred men and two pieces of Alexander's Baltimore battery, made a recognoisance to Middletown about the enemy in strong force—infantry, cavalry and artillery. After a sharp first our forces (the yankees) were repulsed and fell back to Frederick, the enemy slowly pursuing. Large numbers of reb I stragglers are arriving at M becacy and are sent at once to the front, by Gen. Wallace. The enemy are reported to be in full force on the Hagerstown turn-

FREDERICK, July 7. - The enemy is now one mile from town, on the Hagerstown pike. All the sick and government stores, have been removed. Reinforcements are arriving. Baltumore, July 7 .- Midnight Gen Wal lace has met with a success at Frederick. He has repulsed the rebels thus far in all their efforts to drive us from the town.

THE ENEMY REPULSED THREE TIMES. Baltimore, July 7 .- The following particulars are gathered from beadquarters from information received there to-night: This afternoon the rebel advance made an effort to gain the bridge over the Menocacy General Wallace, with only a small portion of his force, moved out to check them. He formed in line of battle about a mile eastward, of the town, and shortly after four o'clo k fighting commenced, and lasted, with more or less severity, up to eight e'clock, when the rebels, after being three times repulsed, finally retired, leaving us in possession of the ground During the action several shells fell into the city, but did no damage of moment The citizens viewed the fight from housetops and the cutskirts. General Wallace is confident of helding

AN APPEAU TO THE PROPUR OF THE

CONFEDERATE STATES The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Richmond A Christian Association of Richmond, respect-fully, but exmestly, submit to the benevolent and the patriotic throughout the Confederate States, an appeal in behalf of the Soldiers' Families in this city. Since the commencement of the war, Richmond has been a refuge for those who have been, driven from their homes by our ruthless enemies. Thousands of helpless women and child.en, not from the devastated counties of V rg ma alone, but from nearly every State of the Confederacy, have sought an asylun in our midst. Our citizens have been appealed to in numberless instances to relieve the sick and wounded soldiers, to furnish shoes and clothing for soldiers in the field and hospital, and to afford ood and shelter for their suffering families, and nobly have they, in the great majority of instances, responded to every appeal.

The supplies of provisions in this city at this time are so reduced, and the difficulties of ob-taining others by ordinary means so numerous and great, that the funds contributed for the relief o the poor can accomplish but little in pur chasing the necessaries of life.

In a written report from the Clothing Bureau, it appears that there are more than three thouand females in this city who are seeking employment from the Government in vain, and that thos who obtain work are not fully employed. The wages received for their work will not enable se poor women to procure a sufficiency of the plainest food for themselves and children. Without assistance, then, from the city and country generally, many instances of actual starvation must have occurred. Our City Council has made most liberal appropriations for the purchase of supplies, both tof gratuitous distribution and for sale at cost; but the agents employed for the purpose have not been able to procure the quantity of provisions required.

Under these circumstances, we feel hat it is our duty to appeal to our fellow-citizens throughout the Confederate States, to forward, without delay, contributions of money and supplies to the army Committee of this association. Since the commencemnt of the war this Committee has labored zealously and faithfully for the temporal and spiritual welfare of our soldiers and their famimost glorious campaige, for want of the gener-ous sympathy and support of their friends at

Committee, will be promptly attended to. And in accordance with a special agreement under with the Superintendent of the Southern Express Company, ail express charges will be paid by Contributions of money should also be sent to

FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1864.

Another Pieture.

Mr. Holden charges his opponent with being a Destructive. And lo! it is proved on him that HE boasted of his destructiveness when he proclaimed that he "court KILL." That he has destroyed every party which took him to its confidence; and what is pleasant and agreeable to all true Confederates, that he is now destroying the intolerant and proscriptive Conservative party which engaged him in its

He charges upon Gov. Vance, that he allows the system that Mr. Holden calls "stallfederate." And lo! it is proved upon him that he is a stallfed, as fat as a buck. That while the "poor women and ragged children have not a bite of bread," he goes to the commissary, as State Printer, (a shade office) and buys molasses "at very low Government price," and takes this molasses away from the dear little children, and feeds his machine, sopping it all over. And there, standing up to the rack, filled with molasses, he bites and kicks at every other animal-horse, mule or ass-who belongs to the same family, and has a stall too.

He charges Gov. Vance with having "block. ade luxuries." . And lo! it is proved on him, that he helped himself at the Governor's house to some of the blockade brandy, and found it "very good" for startled nerves. And it is charged that he has brought his paper through the blockade on the Advance, and never "settled his account" for freight,

And the reason why he opposes Gov. Vance, is suspected to be, that the latter tried to make him "settle his accounts."

He charges Gov. Vance with buying Col. McRae, by not paying him 5 per cent. commission on the negotiation for the State, which he says is $11,000, which he thinks unreasonable. And lo! it is proved with greater force, that George N. Sanders has hanght him, by a promise to divide the profits of his damages; for which consideration, Mr. Holden has recognized the claim of Sanders, and bound himself to pay it when he is Governor. And these damages are laid at near a million of dollars IN GOLD!!! And Mr. Holden is to become a millionaire and a swell-head, by the "odor of naval stores."

He charges that Gov. Vance is an enemy of the people-of their wives and children, and especially of the soldiers. And lo! it is proved that Gov. Vance, by his own foresight, prudence, and skill, has furnished the soldiers' families with food and clothing, and their families and children with provisions, and their wives with cotton cards and spun cotton, and all of them with remunerating labor; while not a stiver of benevolence, charity or assistance has ever been proved, for Mr. Holden, except that he gave one soldier $15 to buy him a breakfast; and this was published by the indefatigable "John" the next morning. And this gift, it is said, was in old currency, at 331 per cent. discount, while the breakfast was at 331 per cent. advance.

Thus, he is proved to be a Stallfederate-a Blockade Runner - an Original Secessionist a Shulker out of the army by a shade office, and a man with "large eyes fixed on the Treasury," which eyes look through the magnifying spectacles of George N. Sanders; between which is a nose always regaled with "the odor of Naval Stores."

HOW to Vote.

Mr. Holden quotes the law, that men may vote if they choose "a rolled up ticket." It is true, as Mr. Holden says to his followers. "A man has a r ight, carefully secured to him by the law, to hand in a rolled up or folled ticket." If any man is afraid or a shamed to vote openly, before his neighbors, he may vote under the sly, by rolling of it

But this election has a consequence such as no other election will probably ever have in North Carolina; for we think after this olection is over, when the people pronounce judg. ment, and the courts shall have prenounced juliment, that probably there will never be a recurrence of a state of things so disgraceful to our State, as that which has existed in this nolitical contest. We said this election has a consequence. It will be historic. The racords of it will be made up, and go down to posterity fixing the status of men who take part in it. It is therefore all important, in the army and here at home, for all loyal men to vote an open ticket. Let it be the pride and boast of every true soldier and faithful citizen to spread out his vote with nothing "ROLLED" or hidden about it -that all his neighbors may know that he was right. It. will avail many a man against whom the suspicions of society have been aroused, to be able hereafter to leave with his children the proof, that in the contest in North Carolina he voted against the ticket which the secret tory society supported. For we assert, that whenever there he found a member of this organization, then will be found a Holden voter, so long as he remains in it. Let all good men on election day show their hands,

Smith O'Brien, a distinguished Irish leader, and an able and zealous advocate of the Confederacy, is reported dead.

The Goldsboro' State Journal says Lieut. Colonel Netherentt is not deal, as has been reported. He was not much injured even.

"Can it be So ? "

We borrow the above from the title of an article which appeared in the Conservative of the 8th instant. That article stated a rumor on the streets, which was in substance, that Mr. W. R. Richardson, one of the candidates of the straitest sect in Wake county, had said in the presence of W. F. Askew, James D. Pullen and H. L. Evans, (since dead.) that he, Mr. Richardson, thought the negroes ought to vote and enjoy the privileges of white men; that the negroes ought to be set free; that he would set his free, if the laws of North Carolina would permit him to do. so; that this was their home, and they ought. to remain here.

To this statement and enquiry, Mr. Richardson has made no reply. The Standard and the Progress have defended him; but the accusation remains unanswered, and not denied, and must therefore be taken as an admitted fact. In this legislative contest we have no part in this county. We, the senior Editor, shall not vote for any of the candidates, for the reason that we do not consider this our permanent residence.

While we have a great respect for Mr. Fowle as a gentleman of honor and truth, we have no affiliation with him politically!. and so far as party is concerned, he is capable of doing us more harm than Mr. Alford or Mr. Calvin Rogers. Besides, we have heard that if the Holderites could have got him to run, they would have been glad to have him. But he did not stand stiff and erect enough for Messrs. Holden and Pennington, and Mr. Richardson was preferred, who, being Captain of the Home Guard, by Governor Vance's commission, it was presumed could stand " STRAIT."

Mr. Sion H. Rogers, in the Senate, is a personal friend, but every one knows that he has always been opposed to us in politics; and since Mr. Holden went over to his side, we have not seen that he has relaxed his

So that in Wake county we are free from the centroversy, except so far as any of the candidates draw forth our strictures by the with Mr. Richardson. If these sentiments be his, he is no fit candidate to appear before North Carolinians. Let us analyse them: 1st, That the laws of emancipation in North Carolina should be altered. Heretofore, the emancipated negro was required to be sent out of the State. Mr. Richardson would free him and let him remain here. He would institute here in our midst, negro competitors for the poor white may in every department of trade, mechanics and labor-so that when the day laborer goes out to earn his wages, he would find free negroes compamake their home here in our midst, in subversion of those wholesome laws which the wisest men in the State passed and have abided by, and which Mr. Holden has a thousand times defended; for if there be any leg. islation well settled, it is that which inhibits the policy of emancipation, and allows it only on the condition of the removal of the eman-

But Mr. Richardson goes further. He would allow them to vote! This right of suffrage was deliberately cut off in 1835, by a Convention of the State after mature discussion. Its evils were seen-its injurious tendency was felt, and by none was it more felt . than by the poor and laboring white men, who could not bear the thought of having emancipated and free negroes brought to equality with them, and made as good as they were, by being allowed to kill their votes. Mr Richardson would change the constitution and renew this right-not only free negroes, but emancipated slaves !

Does Mr. Richardson think he would get the votes of his fifteen or twenty negroes by restoring this privilege? We tell him nay. Negroes are not as gratefulas white men; and when Mr. Richardson sees white men whom Gov. Vance has favored-whom he has commissioned -- whose connections he has honored with places of trust, show the ingratitude of opposing and denouncing their benefactor, how can he expect, as high as, his estimate of the nigger may be, that he would show more

But there is another phrase in this undenied statement: "That they ought to enjoy the priviles of white men." Is it meant here to say, that the negro shall be put on equality with the people of North Carolina? To go to the white man's house-to sit at his table -sleep in his bed-lock arms with him on the street? We will not go further for the

But we wish to knew, and know emphatically. The people have a right to know if Mr. W. R. Richardson holds such opinions, and has given utterance to them. And we shall wait a reasonable time for his reponse.

A Palace for the Poor.

It is currently reported in the county, that Mr. Holden is building a splendid edifice for the benefit of poor orphan children. We have not seen the foundation stone, but we expect it will be laid on an elevated, or on

And these will be the children that will live in a "castle in the air." Built as it will be out of the funds derived by the sale of the Life and Times; and the profits derived from the bargain with George N. Sanders, the little boys and girls will have a delicious atmosphere, fragrant with "the odor of paval stores." Another rumor is, that he is preparing a vault at his own expense, in which to bury the poor children under 18 . whom " Jeff. Davis, the despot has ordered to be killed." It is not improbable when this event happens that he will bury himself alive, in order to be near the objects of his regard,

From the Richmond Dispatch, 11th instant. Later from Europe.

THE ALABAMA SUNK BY THE KRARSAGE-ES-CAPE OF CAPT. SEMMES-FULL ACCOUNTS OF

European dates as late as the 25th of June, are received. The most important intelligence in them, to readers on this side of the Atlantic, is the sinking of the & S. steam corvette Alabama by the Federal gunboat Kearsage, in Cherbourg bay, on Sunday, the 19th ult. The Alabama reached Cherbourg on Saturday, the 11th of June, from Cape Town, with thirty prisoners, the crews of two merchant vessels, which she had captured and destrayed on the passage, and which she landed immediately upon arriving. She entered the harber for the purpose of making. repairs, as she was in an unseaworthy condition. While there, it appears that the Captain of the Kearsage challenged Semmes for a fight between the two vessels-the challenge was accepted, and on the 19th the Alabama steamed out to attack the Yankee boat. At the same time the Deer Hound, a steam pleasure yacht, owned by John Lancaster, an English gentleman, steamed out with Mr. L. and his family to see the fight. Mr. L. furnishes the London Times with the follow-ACCOUNT OF THE FIGHT BETWEEN THE ALABA-MA AND KEARSAGE. To the Editor of the Landon Times: Herewith I send you a copy of my log respecting the engagement between the Confederate steamer Alabama and the Federal stearmer Kearsage.

Sunday, June 19th, 9 a. m .- Got up steam and proceeded out of Chebourg harbor .-10 30-observed the Alabama steaming out of the harbor towards the Federal steamer Kearsage. 11 80-the Alabama commenced firing with her starboard battery, the distance between the contending vessels being about one mile. The Kearsage immediately replied with her starboard guns; a very sharp, spirited firing was then kept up, shot sometimes being varied by shells. In the manœuvering both vessels made seven complete circles at a distance of from a quarter to half a mile.

At twelve a slight intermission was observed in the Alabama's firing, the Alabama making head sail, and shaping her course for the land distant about nine miles. At half-past twelve observed the Alabama to be disabled and in a sinking state. We immediately made towards her, and on passing the Kearsage were requested to assist in saving the Alabama's erew. At ten minutes to one, when within a distance of two hundred vards, the Alabama sunk. We then lowered our two boats, and, with the assistance of the Alabama's whale boat and dingy, succeeded in saving about forty men, including Capt. Semmes and thirteen officers. At 1 p. m. we steered for

I may state that, before leaving, the Kearsage was apparently much disabled. The Alabama's loss, so far as at present ascertained. n killed and wounded, etc., was as follows, viz: One officer and one man drowned, six men killed, and one officer and sixteen men wounded. Capt. Semmes received a slight wound in the right hand. The Kearsage's boats were, after some delay, lowered, and, succeeded in picking up the remaining sur-JOHN LANCASTER.

Steam Yacht Deerhound, off Cowes, June 19 Mr. Mason, the representative of the Con federate Government at London, has sent a copy of Captain Semmes' official report to the London Times. Capt. Semmes says that in an hour and ten minutes the Alabama was found to be in a sinking state, the enemy's shells having exploded on her sides and between decks. For a few minutes he had hopes of reaching the French coast; but the ship filled rapidly, and the furnace fires were extinguished. Captain Semmes says:

I now hauled down colors to prevent the further destruction of life, and dispatched a boat to inform the enemy of our condition. Although we were new but four hundred vards from each other the enemy fired at me five times after colors had been struck. It is charitable to suppose that a ship of-war of a Christian nation could not have done this intentionally.

Some twenty minutes after my furnace fires had been extinguished, and the ship being on the point of sinking, each man, in obeyance to a previous order which had been given to the crew, jumped overboard and endeavored to save himself.

There was no appearance of any boats coming from the enemy after the ship went down. I was fortunate myself in escaping to the shelter of the neutral flag on board Mr. Lancaster's yacht Deerhound, together with forty others.

NEWSPAPER REPORTS CONCERNING THE FIGHT -GALLANTRY OF THE ALABAMA'S CREW-HOW CAPTAIN SEMMES WAS RESCUED-THE HAULING DOWN OF THE CONFEDERATE FLAG.

The English and French newspapers have various and lengthy accounts of the fight. From the London Times' Southampton correspondent we take the following :

At length the Alabama's rudder was disabled by one of her opponent's heavy shells, and they hoisted sails; but it was soon reported to Capt. Semmes by one of his officers that his ship was sinking.

With great bravery the guns were kent ported till the muzzles were actually under water, and the last shot from the doomed ship was fired as she was settling down. When her stern was completely under water, Capt. Semmes gave orders for his men to save themselves as best they could, and every one jumped into the sea and swam to the boats which had put off to their rescue. Those of them who were wounded were ordered by Capt. Semmes to be placed in the Alabama's boats and taken on board the Kear.

sage, which was as far as possible obeyed.

Capt. Semmes and his First Lieutenant. Mr. J. M. Kell, are staying at Kelwavie Hotel in Queen's terrace, where the gallant commander is under the care of Dr. Ware, medical gentleman of this town; his right hand being slightly splintered by a shot.

When the men came on board the Deerhound they had nothing on but their drawers one of the men, with a sailor's devotedness. insi-ted on seeing his captain, who was then lying in Mr. Lancaster's cabin in a very ex-bausted condition, as he had been entrusted by Capt. Semmes with the ship's papers, and to no one else would he give them up. The men were all very anxious about their captain, and were rejoiced to find that he had been saved. They appeared to be a set of first rate fellows, and act well together in perfect union under the most trying circum-

Mr. Lancaster is clearly of opinion that it was the Kearsage's eleven inch shells which them. gave her the advantage, and that after what he has witnessed on this occasion, wooden ships stand no chance whatever against shells. Both ships fired into each other's hull, and mortal, notwithstanding which he completed

The mainmast of the Alabama had been struck by shot, and as the vessel was sinking broke off and fell into the sea, throwing some men who were in the maintop into the water. Some tremendous gaps were visible in the bulwarks of the Kearsage, and it was believed that some of her boats were disabled .-She appeared to be temporarily plated with iron chains, &c. As far as could be seen, the vards and masts were not much damaged

everything appeared to be well planned and ready on board the Kearsage for action -Great pluck was shown on both sides during the action. On board the Alabama all the harnmocks were let loose, and arrangements had been made for sinking her rather than that she should be captured. As far as is known, not a relic of the Alabama is in possession of her successful rival.

When she was sinking Capt. Semmes dropped his own sword into the sea to prevent the possibility of its getting into their hands, and be gunner made a hole in one of the Alabama's boats and sunk ber for the same reason. Before leaving the Derhound, Captain Semmes presented to Mr. Laucaster's son one brance of the occurrence, and the kind treatment he and his men had received on board the yacht. Mr. Mason, the Confederate agent, Captain. Bullock and the Rev. Mr. Tremlett, arrived at 4 o'clock this afternoon from London, and of his officer's swords and a pistol, in remem-

Semmes. The shell that did the mischief to the lahama struck her just above the water line, knocking her bunkers to pieces, the water almost immediately putting out her fires.

proceeded to Kelway's Hotel to meet Capt.

When the battle was at an end the Deerhound steamed over to the Kearsage, and Mr. Lancaster was asked by the officers of the Federal ship to try and pick up the scores of the Alabama's crew and officers who were floating and swimming about. He lowered his yacht boats, and one of them, commanded by a man named Adams, was steering his boat into a group of a dozen struggling persons when he passed a drowning man at some short distance with an officer's cap on.

One of the men in the boat cried out"That's Semmes," and the drowning man called out, "I am the Captain; save me; I cannot keep up any longer."

Adams went and dragged him into to the boat Semmes then said: "For God's sake. don't put me on board the Kearsage, but put me on board your yacht."

Adams promised to do so, and laid Sammes dows in the bottom, and covered him with a sail to conseal him from the Kearsage's boats, which were evidently anxiously searching for him. When Adams had saved a boat load he took them on board the vacht, and Semmes was at once sent below. As soon as all that were seen in the water were picked up, Mr. Lancaster was anxious to get away. and began to steam out to sea. He expected that he should have been brought to by a shot from the Kearsage, but she was too disabled it appears to go after the Deer Hound to overhaul her, and thus Semmes escaped being made prisoner.

PEMMES' SPEECH TO HIS CREW. [Paris (June 21) Correspondence London Post.] As Captain Semmes is in England, you will get better accounts of the combat than reach addressing them, exclaimed-" We must conquer or die!" To which the crew replied I give the words in French) : " Hurrah pour e Sud! Vive Lee! Vive son armee! Vive la France! la nation genereuse qui seule partique d'une manlere impartiale la neutrali-

SCENE AT THE HAULING DOWN OF THE CON-FEDERATE FLAG.

From the London Star (special report, June 21.) Captain Semmes directed the First Liestenant, Mr. Kell, to go below and report the state of the ship. That officer soon returned. saying she was in a sinking state, and the Captain decided on striking his flag. The flag had been already three times shot away, but replaced. A large number of the crew rushed aft, conjuring the Captain not to strike, and expressing their readiness to sink in her and die with honor; and one of the seamen, named Smith, cutlass in hand, stood by the flag and declared he would not allowed it to be lowered. The Captain leveled his revolver, and insisted on its being hauled down, which was done, and a white flag hoists

Meantime the whale boat and dingy, the only two boats uninjured, were lowered, and he wounded men placed in them, Mr. Fulham being sent in charge of them to the Kearsage. When the boats were full a man who was unwounded endeavored to enter one, but was held back by the surgeon of the ship, Mr. Liewellyn, son of the rector of a parish in Wiltshire. "See," he said, "I want to save my life as much as you do ; but let the wounded men be saved first." " Doctor," said the fficer in the boat, "we can make room for you." "I will not peril the wounded men," was his reply. He remained behind and sank with the ship-a loss much deplored by all the officers and men. He is the only officer known to be lost.

MESSAGE FROM THE ALABAMA TO THE KEAB-

When Mr. Fulbam reached the Kearsage he had his sword by his side, and let it fall into the water, lest he should have to surrender it. He went on board the Kearsage, and was asked by Captain Winslow if he had come to serrender the ship. He said he had no such orders, but was sent to ask for assistance. as they were sinking fast. The Kearsage then ceased firing and lowered her boats, while Mr. Fulham returned towards the Alabama, which sank ere he could reach her, and after picking up a few of the swimmers, he contrived to reach the Deerhound. where he found Captain Semmes, twelve other officers, and about twenty-eight men.

HEBOISM OF SOME OF THE CONFEDERATE CREW. Numerous acts of gallantry are related as having occured on board the Alabama during the fight, one or two of which-are worth recording. Mr. Gunley, the Captain's coxswain, was struck by a shot which shattered the lower part of his arm, leaving it hanging by and shirts, having been stripped to fight; and | flesh and skin; he deliberately took out his kuife, cut off the piece of tinued serving his gun'

An 11 inch shell, which fell on the deck, was taken up and thrown overboard to explode by two men, named Townsend and Marr, the latter of whom is already known to the Alabama men from his having jumped into a heavy sea and saved the life of a man who had fallen overboard. A man named Searno was loading a gun, when a shot struck the ramrod and broke it in two. He looked up and abused them for not waiting to have the shot properly in for One man was sent forward to clear the jib boom rigging, which had been damaged; he received a most painful wound, which was the work and returned to the deck, whe another shot cut him in two. Another man, though mortally wounded, refused to admit that he had been struck, and continued to do his work until he fell dead on

FRENCH OFFICIAL STATEMENT. [From the Paris Moniteur, June 2.]

The Confederate steamer Alabama, carrying out the design it had announced several days' before hand, left Cherbourg Roads vesterday at 10 A. M., and advanced against the Federal corvette Kearsage, which hoveredin the offing at a distance of about fifteen miles. The iron clad frigate Couroune left her moorings simultaneously with the Alabama, accompanied her five miles, in order to prevent hostilities from taking place in French waters. The action commenced at 11 o'clock, far beyond that limit. The firing was gallantly kept up on both sides for two hours, after which the Alabama was compelled by the severe injuries she had sustained to make for Cherbourg. The Kearsage immediately gave chase, but few moments later the Alabama sank. It was then one o'clock. The Kearsage saved seventy-two of the crew and returned to Cherburg, where he anchored in the course of the afternoon. The Confederate and three Federal wounded were landed and taken to the Cherboug hospital. Nine more of the Alabama's erew were brought back to Cher bourg by a pilot boat. The steam tng Var was sent from Cherbourg by the Prefect maritime to afford assistance to the Alabama asseon as she appeared to be in danger, but only arrived after all the survivors had been picked up.

AVANKEE HOWL ABOUT TRE ALABAMA-AN-

OTHER VESSEL FOR SEMMES. The London correspondent of the New York Herald, speaking of the sinking of the Alabama says:

The sinking of the Alabama on Sunday morning has been the theme of every tongue, and the gossip of every coterie. Capt Semmes is the hero of the hour. As one of the daily papers expressed it, he "is the guest of England." And before he had been on shore forty-eight hours arrangements were made for furnishing him another ship, more swift and powerful than the ill fated craft that has just met such a righteous retribution in Cherbourg bay. A gentleman told me vesterday he had seen the steamer that was now fitting out for Capt. Semmes here in the Thames. And he added that she would be Government could not possibly interfere. I believe every word of this is true.

There is a malignant spite in this English metropolis, coupled with a love of gain, that would rig out and arm a bundred Alabamas utterly regardless of public morality, national right or public policy.

A gentleman of my acquaintance had a long conversation with the second officer of the Alabama, and he gave him these particulars: The arrangement was made at Cherbourg with the captain of the yacht Deerhound to go out and witness the fight, and rescue Semmes if he were defense days officer also sold atu, and the French Government had forbidden them a supply; so they had to go out and meet the Kearsage or have the ship sold and the crew disbanded. Trustin that luck which had ever attended his eraft, the bold buccaneer rallied out -to mect more than his match.

If Capt. Wilkes exceeded his duty in taking Mason and Sidell from the Trent, then Capt Winslow is somewhat to blame in allawing Semmes to escape. But some of his apologists may reply that he inquired after Capt. Semmes of the first boat load of wounded and prisoners that came on board, and was told that he was dr wned.

In a few days a new Alabama, and part of a new and part of the old crew, will be cutting the salt sea foam at a speed of sixteen knots an hour, sinking and burning what merchant vessels "yet remains under the Stripes and Stars," and fitted out, as before, with British gold, mounted with British guns, and supplied with British shot and shell, and accompanied by the malignant joy of ninetynine hundreds of Englishmen.

Four Americans sailors who were captured by the Alabama on one of the last ships that she burned, have lately landed in England .-They describe the Alahama as a "perfect hell on earth." They say there was not a particle of discibline on board; that they considered their lives in jeopardy every hour, and that they did not believe Semmes himself felt any personal security against his lawless

We see by the Progress and Standard, that Mr. S. F. Phillips, the Auditor, has resigned his office. If the State has lost his services in this branch of the Government, he is not unwilling to serve them in another, seeing that he is a candidate for the House of Commons

We are not prepared to say how Mr. Hallam would vote if he were in Orange, but if we were there and could find some one less of a favorite of Mr. Holden than Mr. Phillips appears to be, we should vote for him. We hope the Confederates of Orange will try their hand. We see nothing that the Confederate party has to gain by the election of politicians after Mr. Phillips' pattern-while we should like, in the cases of many robust gentlemen who have had easy positions all through this war, to see them "audit and settle the accounts" of some of our vankee enemies; satisfied as we are that such serviceswould be well rendered by them.

N. B.-We hope Mr. Phillips will be closely catchised as to who he intends voting for Governor-whether Vance or Holden.

A Dividend of 15 per cent., has been declared to the Stockholders in the N. C. R. R. nounced by the Preident and due notice given to the Stockholders through the public press.

PETERSBURG, July 13. The Washington Chronicle of the 11th contains over three columns f telegraphic news in reference to the invasion: il press dispatches, nothing official, save a dispatch from Wallace to Seward, saying Col. Seward is not captured. The following is believed to be all of interest, in the press dispatches: Ten-thousand men armed and marching to different fortifications in Baltimere. At six a. m. on the leth, the rebel, cut the Northern Central railway, iffeen miles from Baltimore. The Baltimore and Ohio Railway greatly damaged; most of the rolling stock sent to Philadelphia. Dispatches say some encouraging features are known, not prudent to publish.

The Ashland Iron works, fourteen miles from Baltimore, was destroyed. Dispatches up to 8 p. m., say that the rebel cav-alry were all over Baltimore county, but it is not feared that they will enter the city.

Sullivan's advance guard of Hunter's command is reported to have captured Martinsburg with numerous stores and a number of prisoners. Telegrams from Harrisburg say the rebel force

Gov. Curtin telegraphed to the mayor of Philadelphia that the people were not responding free-ly, and says the authorities at Washington to-day authorized men to be mustered in by companies, which yesterday they refused peremptorily to do.

The yankees say their loss at the Monocacy fight was one thousand, and that the rebels levied contributions of twenty thousand dollars on Mid-

Dispatch from Baltimore, 7 o'clock, says the enemy are on the horse road, seven miles from the Fifteen hundred rebel cavalry have gone to-wards the Baltimore and Philadelphia Rankroad wards the Baltimore and Philadelphia Railroad to burn the bridges over Susquehama river. At last accounts the bridge was not burnt. It is reported the rebels have struck the Baltimere and Washington Railroad at Laurel Factory, but the Washington Chronicle says it is not believed because telegraphic communication is kept up with Baltimere. The firing heard at Harper's Ferry on the 16th is unexplained. The Chronicle supposes Gent Howe is getting in the robel's rear. The rebels burnt many buildings public and primate in Hagerstown.

A special dispatch to the Chronicle from Balti-more, says the opinion is prevalent that the real movement is against Washingt m. The rebela were at Rockville, Maryland, sixteen miles south-west of Washington on Sanday avaisate. west of Washington, on Sunday evening. Dispatches from a newspaper correspon Grant's headquarters on the 9th says the invasion of Maryland is believed to be insignificant, as Richmond papers make no mention of forces en-
